SUBJECT AND AUTHOR INDEX VOLUME 38—1990 NUMBERS 1–12

This index consists only of those articles found in volume 38 (1990). The first half of the index is organized as a subject classification index, which is updated each year as the technology grows. The original structure allows the index classification scheme to be updated so that new categories and subcategories are easily incorporated. Entries in this section are chronilogical by subject category.

The second section, the Author Index, is an alphabetical listing of every author published in the Journal.

EDITOR'S NOTE

In addition to this index, the first 28 volumes of the Journal are available as the Cumulative Index. Volumes 29–35 are available as Cumulative Index 2. In addition, an annual index is published each volume year in issue number 12 (December). The Journal is currently incorporating all of the past indices, all convention preprints, conference proceedings, and anthologies into one publication. This will be published at the end of the volume 40 year (1992). This master index covering the years from 1953–1992 will contain a total of some 7000-plus entries. Each preprint entry will indicate if and where it has been published. Likewise, articles published in anthologies will be referenced. Once this project is completed, an electronic version will be possible.
